

A Social Engagement Program
To enhance the lives of families touched by memory loss

partners in the arts

for families living with memory problems

Partners in the Arts is a program developed for people in the early stages of Alzheimer's or related dementia and their caregivers which encourages participation in activities that focus on the enjoyment of the arts. Family caregivers will enjoy freedom from participating in an arts based program in compassionate company and peace of mind. Family caregivers are also welcome to participate independently and will benefit from therapeutic and social engagement.

Painting & Drawing Open Studio

with Lee Newman

This self-expression class will be held in an open studio format for people to work independently under the guidance of the art instructor, Mr. Lee Newman. All mediums are welcome and no experience is necessary. Participants can bring projects they are already working on or request direction provided in drawing, painting, and mixed media. Students will also take short guided tours of the Delaplaine Center's galleries for inspiration and enjoyment.
